DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

GREETINGS

Dear All

With growing apprehension and low customer confidence in the current market situation and economy, we want you to know that LMS Certification Ltd. will serve to all stake holders, customers and client as individual identity.

In our industry (certification, Training & Inspection) where responsiveness, quality and consistency are key to survival measures, LMS is driven a mission to deliver the services above and beyond the industry values and customers and society's expectations.

One of our most important company assets is our reputation for ethical behavior, honesty and fair dealing. As you know, reputation is a very fragile asset that can easily be destroyed by the actions or failures of one or more of us. We need to emphasize and reinforce our commitment and adherence to these International Standards.

As we continue to build Agilent to meet our own expectations and live up to our name - to have the ability to meet market challenges - Let's make certain that integrity and honest dealing are always central to how we conduct business.

Each employee of LMS is personally responsible and accountable for helping Agilent maintain its reputation for the highest standards of integrity. Especially in times of rapid change, we need to earn the trust and loyalty of all. There are no shortcut formulas or automatic answers to the choices.

Should you have questions or concerns please feel free to call us directly at our numbers.

Thanking You

Dr. Pushpendr Singh Gaur
Managing Director

ISO: A BRIEF INTRODUCTION

LMS Certification Ltd.

ISO is a network of the national standards institutes of 157 countries, on the basis of one member per country, with a central secretariat in Geneva, Switzerland that co-ordinates the system. ISO is a non-governmental organization: its members are not, as is the case in the United Nations System, Delegation of national Governments. Nevertheless, ISO occupies a special position between the public and private sectors. This is because, on the one hand structure of their countries are mandated by their government. On the other hand, other members have their roots uniquely in the private sector, having been setup by national partnership of industry associations. Therefore, ISO is able to act as bridging organizations in which a consensus can be reached on solutions that meet both the requirements of business and the broader needs of society, such as the needs of stakeholder groups like consumers and users.

OUR POLICIES

QP-01	Quality Policy

LMS CERTIFICATION LTD. operates its schemes to provide professional certification services and to meet the needs and expectations of its customers and stakeholders whilst complying with the overarching requirements of the regulatory authorities that grant accreditation.

Additionally, top management:

- understands the importance of impartiality in carrying out management system certification activities
- manages conflict of interest and
- ensures the objectivity of management system certification activities

UK

Thus our policy statement is:

- To maintain accreditation for certification activities within the requirements of ISO 17021 (and other accreditation criteria as appropriate) and any specific requirements of the relevant Accreditation Body and IAF, including the latest IAF/EA guidelines.
- To ensure that audit activities and processes are carried out in accordance with our scope of accreditation and within the requirements of ISO 19011.
- To offer a service to the best of our abilities, which is independent and impartial and is seen to be fair, cost competitive and of high integrity.
- To undertake continuous improvement in the way we conduct our business and the services we offer.
- To ensure that our staff are fully competent in their roles, understand the philosophy of LMS and operate to the procedures set out in the Management System Manual and associated and relevant LMS- CMS documents.

LMS CERTIFICATION LTD. offers its services to all organisations of any size that operate within the accredited scope, without discrimination or pre-condition. LMS CERTIFICATION LTD. does not practise hidden discrimination by speeding or delaying applications. There are no financial considerations, other than non-payment of invoices, which will cause delay or cancel of certification.

QP-02	Statement on Impartiality

The Board of Directors of LMS Certifications Ltd. makes the following public statement on LMS Certification Ltd. understanding of the concept of Impartiality and the importance thereof when managing conflicts of interest and to ensure objectivity when carrying out our verification activities.

Impartiality is the actual and perceived presence of objectivity. Objectivity means that conflict of interest do not exist or are resolved so as not to adversely influence the activities of LMS Certification Ltd.

Synonyms that are useful in conveying the element of impartiality are: objectivity, independence, freedom from conflicts of interest, freedom from bias, and lack of prejudice, neutrality, fairness, open-mindedness, even-handedness, detachment and balance.

Being impartial, and being perceived to be impartial, is necessary for LMS Certification Ltd. to be able to deliver a credible verification service that provides confidence to our clients, the public and all other entities in the country.

It is recognized that the main source of revenue for LMS Certification Ltd. is that of our client paying for our services and that this is a potential threat to impartiality. Our fee structure will be based upon the degree of responsibility and skill involved and the time necessarily occupied on the work, plus the reimbursement of outlays. We will contract our fees in advance with our clients and will not allow the fact that the payment of fees by clients to become a threat to impartiality.

In order to obtain and maintain confidence, LMS Certification Ltd. will at all times be able to demonstrate that our decisions are based on objective evidence and that our decisions have not been improperly influenced by other interests or by other parties.

Threats to impartiality include but not limited to:

- Self-interest threats – threats that arise from a person or enterprise acting in their own interest, for example financial self-interest;
- Self-review threats – threats that arise from a person or enterprise reviewing the work done by them. For example evaluating the compliance of a Client for whom LMS Certification Ltd. may have provided consultancy, or a staff member or director reviewing his own work in an appeal or complaint procedure;
- Familiarity (or trust) threats – threats that arise from a person or body being too familiar with or trusting towards another person instead of seeking and evaluating objective evidence on which to base the verification conclusion or decision;
- Intimidation threats – threats that arise from a person or enterprise having a perception or experience of being coerced openly or secretly, such as a threat to be replaced or reported to a supervisor if he does not do what the person who is coercing him/her wants.

The above Statement is made by LMS Certification Ltd. in the interest of transparency and so that all our clients may be aware of our intentions.

Signed on behalf of the Board of Directors of LMS Certification Ltd.
